FOREWORD

The college years are busy, creative years, when the potential which lies in each person is brought somewhat to the fore, guided by dedicated faculty into the proper channels for best use in later life.

The college tenure is also one of poignancy and sensitivity. These are times of horizons broadened as, alas, they may never be again; times of new and lasting friends and memories of many things done and heard, seen and felt. Here at Westminster these experiences draw us all together because of our mutual dedication to the cause of music.

Above all, college years are ones of growth and maturity — musically, personally, spiritually. Each class leaving the quadrangle has its own personality, its own memories. The Class of 1962 hopes this yearbook will be a mirror of its years of activity and an inspiration to all those who answer the call of the "Anthem of Dedication": "Whom shall we send? . . . Here am I, Lord, send me."

WARREN MARTIN

DEDICATION

We, the Senior Class of 1962, in deepest respect and admiration, do dedicate this 1962 Quadrangle to Warren Martin.

Through Mr. Martin's inspiration, we, as students, personalities, and musicians, have grown to new heights. Whether in contact with him directly or indirectly, we have all been influenced by his unending dedication to the cause of good music. To him we owe much!

Mr. Martin's professional and musical activities have been many and varied, so much so that it is almost literally impossible to present a complete list of such experiences. He attended Westminster Choir College between 1932 and 1938 during which time he served positions in two churches: Organist at First Presbyterian Church of Trenton, New Jersey from 1933 to 1936 and 1937 to 1938; and Organist-Director at Plymouth Congregational Church in New Haven, Connecticut from 1936 to 1937. After receiving his Master of Music degree in 1938, he became the Organist at the First Congregational Church in Los Angeles, California where he remained until 1941. Following a tour of duty with Uncle Sam's army, he returned to his previous Los Angeles church in the position of Director of Music from 1946 to 1948. From there he travelled back east a few miles to be Director of Music at the Rockefeller Memorial Chapel at the University of Chicago from 1948 to 1949. In 1950 Westminster Choir College welcomed Mr. Martin back, but this time as a teacher. He has taught conducting, theory, composition, and vocal repertoire. Since 1952 he has been the Head of the Graduate Department; and since 1958, the Musical Director of the College. It might be interesting to note that Mr. Martin has studied with such well-known personalities as: Roy Harris — composition; Carl Weinrich — organ; Paul Boepple — musicology; David Hugh Jones — organ and composition; and John Finley Williamson — conducting.

We, the members of the graduating class of 1962, have had the opportunity to be acquainted with Mr. Martin through Symphonic Choir, through his course in vocal repertoire given in our Junior year, and, some of us have known him, through Westminster Choir.

This College is indeed privileged to have this great man, musician, teacher, intellect, and friend as one of its most distinguished administrators. All of us owe to him, Mr. Martin, a great deal for his devotion to music and to this school. He has helped us realize the answer to the question posed at Commencement exercises each year in his "Anthem of Dedication": "Whom shall we send? . . . Here am I, Lord, send me." It is with great honor that this yearbook be dedicated to Mr. Warren Martin.

The question burned their minds and they gave heed to answer. Ours is the living reality of their faith and courage. These are they who saw a need and gave of themselves that the need might be fulfilled — bringing into being a training-ground, that their vision, their dream, might be continued; and that their love and goodness passed on to those who were to follow — those who also respond to the call to go into the world with music.

DR. CHARLES R. ERDMAN

The Class of 1962 was the last class to know the person of Dr. Charles R. Erdman, beloved Chaplain of the College for so many years. His spirit lives on; the college, which he was responsible for locating in Princeton, remembers him proudly. Here was, indeed, a great man of much humility and a true servant of God.

ADMINISTRATION & FACULTY

THE PRESIDENT

Lee Hastings Bristol, Jr., Third President of Westminster Choir College

Author, educator, composer, and former business executive, Dr. Bristol succeeds Dr. Noel Sargent, Acting-President from September through February, 1961-62, and the Reverend William F. MacCalmont, second President of the College, who resigned during the year to return to the pastoral ministry.

A graduate of Hamilton College, President Bristol did graduate work at the University of Geneva and holds a degree in organ from Trinity College of Music in London. He is President of the Creative Education Association and is the recipient of five honorary degrees. A Trustee of Westminster for five years he is thoroughly familiar with its past and present.

Having known Dr. Bristol as a dedicated Trustee we consider it a privilege to have him as our concerned President and extend to him our respect and gratitude.

THE DEAN

DR. C. HOWARD HOPKINS

The job of Dean at Westminster Choir College is one requiring a multitude of abilities, both those having to do with administration alone and those needed to balance successfully all facets — musical, academic and other — of our complex schedule. This task has, since 1958, been in the capable hands of Dr. C. Howard Hopkins.

Under the guidance of Dr. Hopkins many changes for the betterment of the College have been initiated, and the proportion of various types of study in the curriculum has been broadened to truly prepare Westminster students for work in a world which cannot afford to be one-sided. The Dean is always ready to listen to suggestions for the good of the institution, and is more than willing to conduct experiments to determine how best we may serve in our chosen fields. Much of his influence is of the quiet type, but it is nevertheless there.

MUSICAL DIRECTOR

MR. WARREN B. MARTIN

Overseeing the entire musical activity and development of the College is the Musical Director, Warren Martin. Mr. Martin, as an administrator, Head of the Graduate Department, and Conductor of the Westminster Choir, discharges his duties with the greatest efficiency. He also is noted for his phenomenal mental index on the personal and musical development of each member of the student body.

CLASS HISTORY

The Class of 1962 of Westminster Choir College first became a reality in the fall of 1958 when, as a group of 63 Freshmen, we found ourselves to be the first class beginning under a new administration. Orientation Week was filled with many new sights and sounds of college life and we rapidly began to feel at home. We remember fondly our yearlong association with Mr. Robert Simpson who that year began his continually encouraging leadership of the Chapel Choir, and also became our class advisor. During the year, we experienced for the first time many of the traditional occasions at Westminster, including the Christmas and May Day festivities. Mr. Johnson gave Dickens' A Christmas Carol a new and special meaning. May Day became the occasion for our first class skit, "Paris A La Mode," with our own male Can-Can line and our young ladies doing their best to create a new type of Maypole dance. Connie Loesby was our May Court attendant. The Symphonic Choir performances brought such eminent conductors as Dr. Bruno Walter and Sir John Barbirolli to our campus for rehearsals, which gave us our first opportunity to observe these masters in a more informal atmosphere. The climax of the year for us was the Commencement Service held in Princeton University Chapel. To be a part of such a meaningful and inspiring occasion gave us a new insight into the purpose of the College and our own sense of mission.

As Sophomores, we returned to Westminster with a sympathetic understanding of the new students who were just beginning their college life. At the end of Orientation Week, they relaxed at the annual Sock Hop, which we organized. Several of our class had been selected for Westminster Choir and in early winter, left us for the three-week Southern tour. As members of the Symphonic Choir, many of us sang for the first time in Carnegie Hall with the New York Philharmonic. The work was the Choros No. 10 by H. Villa-Lobos which came to life under the very rhythmic leadership of the South American conductor, Eleazar de Carvalho. As Dramatics students, we presented a special adaptation of Dickens' A Christmas Carol during Christmas Week and at the Christmas Carol contest, our class won with a carol written by John Blackwell. The Christmas recital was given by Janice Harsanyi, soprano, Flora Greenwood McCurdy, harpist, and Dr. Alexander McCurdy, organist. The beauty and musicianship of the artists still remain as a highlight of the year. After Christmas vacation, the Symphonic Choir began intense rehearsals for spring performances of the Missa Solemnis by Beethoven, which was performed and recorded with the New York Philharmonic under Leonard Bernstein. Again our May Court attendant was Connie Loesby and we startled all observers with our own interpretation of an African Safari. The year was saddened by the passing of our College Chaplain, Dr. Charles Erdman, who was a friend to all, a great man who lived simply and gave to many a new meaning of faith in the weekly chapel services. One special pleasure was his way of conveying Scripture, nearly always memorized and given with a new emphasis.

As Juniors, we began the year by giving the Orientation Week Picnic at Washington's Crossing. It rained. The first Symphonic Choir engagement was with the Princeton Symphony under Nicholas Harsanyi for a concert in memory of Dr. Erdman. We performed the Beethoven Choral Fantasia with Edward Cone, pianist, and the Beethoven Mass in C. Several teachers made valuable contributions to our academic life, including Warren Martin in Vocal Interpretation and Dr. Arlo Duba, our new Chaplain, in Christian Education and Psychology. In December, the Symphonic Choir performed the Messiah with the Philadelphia Orchestra under William Smith, associate conductor, at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia. Excitement was high when we again won the Christmas Carol contest with an original carol written by Sally Zarker. Many of our class were singing in Westminster Choir for the first time and were enjoying the double leadership of Elaine Brown and Warren Martin. Their three-week tour took them from Michigan to Oklahoma. They were also featured with Dr. Alexander McCurdy at the opening recital of the new organ installed at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia. As our Chapel organ had a new console and had been slightly rebuilt, several recitals were held throughout the year for which we had three guest European organists, Lady Susi Jeans from England, Marie-Claire Alain from France, and Fernando Germani from Italy. Recitals were also given by Dr. Alexander McCurdy, Dr. George Markey and Donald McDonald of our own faculty. The appearance of the Symphonic Choir with the New York Philharmonic was in performances of Prokofiev's Alexander Nevsky, which was conducted by Thomas Schippers and later recorded for Columbia Records. As their final performance of the year, the Symphonic Choir gave a concert in the First Presbyterian Church of Princeton under the leadership of Thomas Hilbish and Warren Martin. The program included the Kyrie from the B-minor Mass by Bach, the Stabat Mater by Verdi, and the Apparebit Repentina Dies by Hindemith. During Alumni Week, the first Founder's Day was held, honoring Dr. and Mrs. John Finley Williamson. Messages of congratulations were received from many illustrious musicians and friends from around the world and were read to all. The month of April was filled with preparations for May Day which we presented under the title A Shakespearean Satire. The long hours of work were rewarded by the highly successful events, including the banquet and the dance. The afternoon activities, originally scheduled for out-of-doors on the Quadrangle had to be quickly re-staged in the Chapel. It rained. Rosemary A. Lackey was our May Court attendant.

In the fall of 1961, we began our last year at Westminster, with 37 students, a little more than half of our original class. Many of us wondered where the last three years had disappeared so quickly. But the busy activities of the final year gave us little time to think about it. We gave our little brothers and sisters much advice about how they should spend their four years here and tried with difficulty to remember how we had felt that first week as Freshmen. Fun Night during Orientation Week gave us a chance to reveal our true selves to the new students. Immediately we began rehearsals of the Symphonic Choir for a presentation of Haydn's The Seasons with the Princeton Symphony under Mr. Harsanyi. In this connection, we also came into contact with Historical and Structural Analysis under Julius Herford, one of the leading musicologists of our time and a man who led us with warm heart and dignity of spirit "into the score." This was the year that Joan Sutherland came to Princeton and a perceptive person could see that half of our class were ushers that night as tickets were very difficult to obtain. Rehearsals continued with Ralph Burrier, a new faculty member, for four performances in New York with the Philharmonic under the direction of Josef Krips of Lukas Foss' A Parable of Death and Beethoven's Ninth Symphony. Returning to Princeton the Saturday night after the performance in a storm of sleet and freezing rain, a slight bus mishap about a mile from the school had us all walking back to the dormitories at two o'clock in the morning. As Seniors, we were responsible for the Christmas festivities and during the week of performances in New York, we were busy decorating and planning various events, including the recital and banquet. Both the performances and the festivities were successful and we left for Christmas vacation with a high feeling of accomplishment. Many excellent recitals were given during the year, including those of Lois Laverty, an alumna returning from study in Vienna, and Piet Kee, Dutch organist. Our last performances in Carnegie Hall with the New York Philharmonic were under Leonard Bernstein who conducted the Choral Fantasia by Beethoven with Rudolph Serkin, pianist. As we were honored guests of the Junior Class for May Day, we can only say that their lengthy preparations were very much enjoyed, including the class skits, the banquet, and the formal evening dance. Commencement approached all too quickly and as we heard the familiar notes of the graduation music in the University Chapel, we sang with a mixture of confidence and insecurity, which are always felt on such occasions, "Here am I, Lord, send me."

ORGANIZATIONS

WESTMINSTER TOURING CHOIR

"Komm, Jesu, komm"

The choir which gave the college its name carries on the tradition of good music well performed in this year's Westminster Touring Choir under the direction of Warren Martin, Musical Director of the college. The union of forty of the best voiced musicians from the student body makes for a group which proudly represents the college on its annual tours. This year, the tours included a weekend series in New England and Long Island in January, and a longer tour to Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, New York, and New Jersey. The Westminster Touring Choir is a primary link between the students and alumni as it goes forth yearly with its inspiring program of predominantly sacred music.

SYMPHONIC CHOIR

Symphonic Choir consists of all upperclassmen of the college and is a vehicle of education through the preparation of major choral works for performance with leading orchestras, notably the New York Philharmonic.

Under the direction of Warren Martin, the choir's first appearance this year was with Nicholas Harsanyi and the Princeton Symphony in a performance of Haydn's The Seasons.

Permanent conductor Ralph Burrier prepared the choir for four December performances with the New York Philharmonic under the inspiring and dynamic Viennese conductor, Josef Krips. The works sung were the Lukas Foss Parable of Death and the Beethoven Ninth Symphony.

In the spring semester were performances with the Philharmonic under Leonard Bernstein of the Beethoven Choral Fantasia with Rudolf Serkin as pianist. Also performed was Brahm's Requiem.

CHAPEL CHOIR

Robert Simpson, Director

The Chapel Choir consists of freshmen and new undergradute students. It gives the student an opportunity to put to use techniques acquired in the first year voice classes. For some, this is the first experience in ensemble singing, an introduction to the heart of Westminster — its choirs. To these ends, the Chapel Choir prepares a program of sacred music for presentation in schools and churches within easy travelling distance of Princeton. In addition to its usual program, this year's choir prepared Handel's Messiah for performance on campus and in Newark.

Under the inspiring leadership of Robert Simpson, the Chapel Choir establishes for the new student a sense of purpose within the college, while at the same time laying the foundations of good choral technique in preparing music suitable for the worship of God.

ORCHESTRA

The Westminster Orchestra is a group small in size but large in spirit. Consisting of qualified instrumentalists under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi, the orchestra prepares a number of concerts yearly. This is the first year in many that the ensemble has not toured at Christmastime to churches performing the Messiah. At the beginning of the second semester, they presented a program of music for organ and orchestra with Joan Hult Lippincott as organist. The music included works by Handel, Mozart, Franck, and Piston. Later in the semester the orchestra presented a program featuring Joan St. Clair and Dorothy Riggs in Bach's Double Violin Concerto and Mathilde McKinney in a Mozart concerto.

Westminster has long had a system of student government for matters concerning students. The Student Association, made up of all students, holds an annual election to choose its officers for the following year. These officers plan the over-all schedule of the student body early in the fall with the Deans. During the year, the group meets regularly to act on matters of importance to the entire student body. It, this past year, revised the Student Handbook and concerned itself with the Honor System factors on campus. The Association's, and thereby the Council's, first woman president was in office for the 1961-62 year in the person of Joan St. Clair. The Student Council is the most direct link between students and administration.

The Student Council also has its Social Chairman who arranges for all-campus activities of a more recreational nature, i.e. volleyball tournament, student price reductions for productions at McCarter Theatre, etc.

WOMEN'S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The student governing body of the women's dormitories is the Women's Council, whose president this year is Lady Ann Shivers. There are representatives from each class who meet to decide matters of policy pertaining to the women students alone. The advisor is Dean Donaldson.

SEATED: A. Culver, L. A. Shivers, B. Barbee, M. Zito. STANDING: N. Clemens, M. Aiello, S. Eck, S. Shamenek.

MEN'S COUNCIL

The Men's Council is the governing body of North Hall, and as such has regular meetings to discuss procedures pertaining to the men enrolled in the college. Representatives are elected from each class: Paul Eisenhart was president this year under a newly adopted Constitution. This Council works in cooperation with the Women's Council in planning all-campus events, through the respective Social Committees of each Council.

CHRISTIAN LIFE COUNCIL

FIRST ROW: E. Landaas, M. Alber, C. Loesby, A. Culver. SECOND ROW: H. Chadwick, B. A. Fawthrop, L. Collner, R. Pfau. THIRD ROW: G. Betenbaugh, J. Coston, L. Amos, L. Gussman.

Dr. Arlo Duba, Advisor

The Christian Life Council is concerned with the spiritual life of the campus and works in conjunction with the college chaplain to keep an awareness of the sacredness of the ministry of music before the student. It is responsible also for the planning of special religious services, such as the annual Christmas service and vespers.

THE COLUMN

A Student Publication

The Column, now in its third year at Westminster Choir College, is recognized as being the principle publication on campus for news and previews. This year an effort is being made also to develop the paper as a means of literary expression and a communicant for anything from practice suggestions to thought-provoking articles on matters of particular interest to us as musicians.

THE QUADRANGLE

SEATED: Leo Gussman, Jane Herwig, Ruth Ayendez. STANDING: Claudia Harvey, Frank Stearns, Kay Louise Neff.

The Quadrangle, heretofore a publication of the senior class, has this year become a venture of the entire student body with elected staff members from each class. This insures greater coverage of the necessary materials comprising a yearbook, and allows a training period for those who will assume the responsibility in succeeding years. This uniting of forces works to produce a yearbook which is truly representative of Westminster Choir College.

DORMITORY RECEPTIONISTS

A new scholarship help has been instituted in the form of weekend dormitory receptionists in East and West Halls. The women involved act at hostesses for the dorm, answering phones, greeting visitors, and being generally helpful during the lax weekend periods on campus. This program actually came into being three years ago, but this is the first recognition of it.

LIBRARY STAFF

The Library staff, headed by John Peck and Mrs. Ruth Baumgartner, does a thorough job of making available books and music for the use of the students, and keeping in good condition our extensive anthem collection for the use of student choir directors. The two supervisory librarians are assisted by a small group of students.

COMMONS STAFF

The Commons Staff is a group of students on work scholarships whose duty it is to assist in the serving of meals in the dining hall. The group is under the direction of Dietician Larry Mitchell and Head Waiter Robert Pfau.

COMMONS COMMITTEE

The Commons Committee is the middleman between Slater System and students' valid comments about the food and its service.

Because you're an organist...

You'll particularly prize the Möller once you play this magnificent pipe organ. Only then can you fully appreciate its tonal excellence and mechanical perfections, which have made Möller the "organ of artists"— custom designed to fit any church and any budget.
A few moments at the console will convince you there is no "second best"— that the synthetic sounds of simulated organs lack the dignity and grandeur your church music deserves.
Before you accept a substitute, play a Möller pipe organ. Once you do, nothing less will satisfy you.

ANOTHER FIVE-OCTAVE, SIXTY-ONE NOTE

"Arlington"* CARILLON

INSTALLED AT WESTMINSTER CHOIR COLLEGE, PRINCETON, N. J.

The growing acceptance of the "Arlington" Carillon is good news for organists! Schulmerich is the world's ONLY producer of modern bell instruments with both English and Flemish type tuning, as well as chimes, thus providing percussion instruments meeting the requirements of any church or institution. Both bell instruments have all the traditional partials, including the rich, colorful minor third distinguishing a true bell tone from chimes which lack this quality.

The Schulmerich "Arlington" Carillon is the ONLY modern instrument having the sub-octave hum tone which together with its other partials identifies the Flemish type tuning. All types of harmony—major, minor, augmented, and diminished chords or any other type of chord, arpeggio or trill, can be played without restriction. With its 61 bells, 5 octave chromatic range, played from one keyboard, all types of carillonistic effects are possible. Individual expression pedal controls for bass and treble bells provide wide dynamic range for solo and accompaniment so necessary to true carillon music.

Truly, The "Arlington" is the 20th Century carillon embodying the tradition and color of the finest cast bell instrument. While retaining all the desirable features of cast bell carillons, undesirable factors such as tremendous weight, huge tower construction, keyboard limitations, complex automatic operation and enormous cost are eliminated.

If you've dreamed of the unfettered use of bells from the tower or with the organ, investigate The "Arlington" Carillon now! Write to:

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The staff of the 1962 QUADRANGLE extends its appreciation to the following persons for their assistance in the production of this yearbook:

American Yearbook Company in Cambridge, Maryland, for its fine publication.

Merin Studios in Philadelphia for the fine photographing of the seniors, underclasses, graduates, scenes, and formal organizations.

Orren Jack Turner for the excellent protography of various pictures used in this book.

Peter A. Juley and Son of New York City for the photographs taken of the oil paintings of the Drs. Williamson by Eric Haupt of New York City.

Alan W. Richards for some excellent photographs included in this book.

Jack Ardoin for the photographs of the Symphonic Choir at Carnegie Hall.

Robert Huff and Dorothy Hogan for most of the divider page pictures and miscellaneous snapshots.

All the students who contributed snapshots and suggestions.

Mrs. Dorothy Kovacs for her concern and assistance as advisor.

The administration and faculty for their co-operation and advice.

IN APPRECIATION

The production of a yearbook such as The Quadrangle involves the efforts of many persons — the untiring efforts of many persons. Without a staff, a yearbook editor would truly be lost. This year's publication was no exception. The project involved more than just the senior class, as in past years; it involved the whole school with representatives on the staff from each class. It is to these devoted, hard-working students that I, as Editor-in-Chief, wish to express my sincere appreciation for their endeavors.

I am grateful to Dorothy Riggs, who has acted as my Assistant Editor, for her help in the materialization of much of this book. To Leo Gussman, my Business Manager, I wish to express my gratitude for his wonderful job in managing and handling the finances. To Frank Stearns, my Literary Editor, I give credit for his hard work in the writing of the book. It is to Robert Huff, my Photography Editor, that I extend my appreciation for his help in procuring some of the many fine pictures, including most of the divider-page pictures. Last, but to no extent least, I extend to Ruth Ayéndez, my Layout Editor, my sincerest thanks for a job well-done. Ruth had the most to do with this Quadrangle from the viewpoints of obtaining the material and creating the finished product. Without her I would have been lost, as would the whole staff.

To the rest of my staff, the administration, faculty, and students, may I also extend my thanks. Every amount of support has been greatly appreciated and has helped me in gaining through this rich experience. Every moment of work on this yearbook has been one of pleasure and satisfaction for me.

I hope this Quadrangle will be a meaningful catalogue of pleasant memories for all of you as you face the future in light of the past.

JANE E. HERWIG
